BARN, STOCK AND CROPS DESTROYED

Disastrous Evening Fire in Berwick Township. Three Horses, Nine Cows and Thirty Hogs Burned. Supposed Incendiarism.

The barn on the farm of Charles Bechtel in Berwick township, tenanted by Charles Hargest, was burned to the ground on Sunday evening about half past six o'clock together with all the stock, all the crops and practical all of the farming implements.

The barn is supposed to have been set on fire as no one of the family had been near the building with a lantern or any other light. When Mr. Hargest discovered the fire it was spreading rapidly, being fanned by a stiff wind and the building burned with such rapidity that nothing could be saved. Among the things which were burned were three horses, nine cows, thirty hogs, all the hay, corn, wheat and oats, all the farming implements except a reaper, two horse wagon and a sleigh. A straw stack and two stacks of fodder burned also.

The fire made a big blaze and a large crowd of people gathered on the scene from Hanover and Abbottstown, the Peightel farm being about two miles from the latter place on the road to Hanover. All efforts were devoted to saving the other buildings. The wind blew with such force that sparks were carried to the roof of the barn on the farm of Israel Grim, a mile away. They were quickly extinguished and men were preparing to put water on the straw stack at the Grim farm when it was found that such a course would not be necessary.

The barn, stock, crops and implements burned were worth several thousand dollars and were partly covered by insurance.

BUYS HANDSOME AUTOMOBILE

Says the Harrisburg Star Independent:—"One of the most distinctive motor cars ever seen in this city was delivered last week by Manager Earl Cox, of the Cox Auto Company, to John D. Keith, of Gettysburg. It was a straight-line four passenger torpedo model of the new 1911 Stoddard-Dayton. In point of refinement and every other desirable feature of a car his Stoddard-Torpedo was the subject of enthusiastic admiration from every person who had a glance of the car. It is of the four cylinder 40-horse type, equipped with a full Bosch magneto system with big 36 inch wheels and demountable rims. The gas tank is located back of the rear seat in a manner that compares with the harmonious lines to the entire torpedo body. The new owner, Mr. Keith, was very much pleased with the car, which was turned over to him in this city, and he added a full curtain equipment with other accessories, giving him one of the most complete cars in this section of Pennsylvania."

GAY SCENE ON NIXON FIELD

Gettysburg College Defeats Dickinson in Exciting Game in which Local Eleven Triumphs in Last Ten Minutes of Play.

Nixon Field presented a gay and brilliant scene on Saturday afternoon when almost a thousand persons gathered to witness the big event of the local foot ball season, the annual gridiron struggle between the time honored rivals, Gettysburg and Dickinson. And it was a struggle of which to be proud and one which will go down in local college annals as one of the most fiercely contested games ever witnessed on the local field. After being apparently defeated for three fourths of the game the orange and blue warriors came back strong in the last period of the event and by regular whirlwind foot ball swept the Carlisle students off their feet and captured the game by a score of 10 to 3.

With the Gettysburg rooters lining one side of the field and the Dickinson adherents on the other; with a profusion of orange and blue on the north and an abundance of red and white on the south; the field was at its gayest and the game was worthy of the crowd gathered to witness it. A stinging west wind swept over the gridiron all afternoon and snow flurries came several times but the elements mattered little to the crowd and as the fortunes of the game alternated the enthusiasm from the two sides continued unabated until the very end of the contest.

Fighting throughout more than half of the game with a three to nothing score against them the Gettysburg team showed their usual grit and never-say-die spirit until the very end, getting together ten minutes before the final whistle blew and, playing fast and hard with such perfect team work that the red and blue warriors were completely outclassed, simply ran away with them and scored two touchdowns netting ten points. Gettysburg's enthusiasm knew no bounds and for a moment the Dickinson rooters were silent only to come out with songs and cheers again when their warriors showed strength near the end of the game, only to have their hopes blasted when Gettysburg regained possession of the ball and booted it far out of danger.

THE GAME

The stiff wind which blew from west to east all afternoon proved a strong factor in the game. Dickinson had the wind on their backs during the first period and made good use of it. Gettysburg kicked off and after failing to gain Dickinson punted. The wind carried the ball far down the field. Gettysburg failed to gain and punted. This continued throughout the entire period, only one first down being made and that resulting from an end run by Wise of Dickinson.

Dayhoff punted well against the wind but ground was lost on poor judgment of the Dickinson kicks and poor handling of the ball. The red and white finally got near the goal line to try a placement kick but failed. A few minutes later they again got near the line and this time put the ball over, the pigskin striking the cross bars and bounding over.

In the second period Gettysburg had the advantage of the wind and twice tried field goals but both times failed. The orange and blue showed good ground gaining ability here and gathered strength.

In the third period Gettysburg successfully fought back the onslaughts of the Carlisle warriors who were again aided by the wind and punted a score though several attempts at field goals were made.

The fourth period opened with the ball in Dickinson's possession on Gettysburg's twenty two yard line. Gettysburg got the ball on downs, punted way down the field, threw Dickinson for losses and soon blocked a kick which rolled back of the goal line. Dickinson tried to run it out, was tackled, fumbled the ball and Snyder fell on it for Gettysburg's first touchdown.

Gettysburg received the kick off, punted and after receiving the ball played straight foot ball. Dickinson circling the end, Weimer and Lawyer going through the line and tearing things up generally until a yard from the goal when Weimer carried it over for the second touchdown.

After this Dickinson carried the ball for three successive gains of ten yards each but lost all hope of scoring when Dayhoff intercepted a forward pass and punted far down the field. The third period had witnessed excellent handling of long punts by both Dayhoff and Lawyer and their running back of the ball saved Gettysburg a possible score. The entire team gained strength as the game progressed and delighted their supporters by the thrilling finish.

TEACHERS HOLD FIRST RALLY

Adams County Teachers Held their First Rally in York Springs on Saturday. Heard Profitable Discussions.

The first rally of the teachers of Adams County was held at York Springs on Saturday. Two sessions were held in the Odd Fellows' Hall and both proved interesting and of great benefit to the teachers and the large number of York Springs people who were present.

There were about forty teachers present. County Superintendent Roth presided at the sessions and Miss Ursula Sterner, of York Springs, was the secretary. The singing was led by H. C. Lady. Miss Sterner being at the organ.

The address of welcome was made by Prof. Gates B. Linah, of York Springs, and Prof. Roth made the response. Prof. J. K. Stewart, of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School at Shippensburg, gave the principal address of the morning on "The Ideal Teacher." Prof. Stewart said that some things essential to being an ideal teacher were to have scholarship and teaching ability, to be so interested in teaching as to be willing to teach for the love of the work and interest in the children; to be sympathetic and fair.

Dinner was served to the visiting teachers in the various York Springs homes and all present enjoyed the well known hospitality of the people of that town. At the afternoon session the teachers passed resolutions thanking the people of York Springs for their courteous treatment and their kindness.

Rev. L. M. Gardner, of York Springs, made a very excellent address on "Books and Book Making" telling of the history of the mechanical progress of the printing art and urging the reading of good books. The folly of reading trifling and harmful books was also dwelt upon. The other address of the afternoon was made by Prof. Stewart who had for his subject "Abraham Lincoln."

During the day Miss Miriam Gardner sang a much appreciated solo and two children from the primary department of the York Springs schools gave a motion song.

MR. PRATT SUING

The suit of Mason D. Pratt against the Washington and Berkeley Bridge Co., was taken up in court Friday in Cumberland, Md. Judge Keedy is on the bench.

Mr. Pratt was the engineer for the construction of the sanitary sewer and also for the establishment of a uniform grade in this place. The plaintiff contends that he sued the defendants for extra services in drawing up plans and specifications for a bridge across the Potomac river at Williamsport.

The plaintiff contends that he drew up two different plans. The first was for a concrete bridge and the company being unable to raise sufficient money to build a concrete bridge, plans were drawn up for a steel bridge. He was paid for the latter plans but not for the former. The defendants alleged that they contracted with Mr. Pratt to draw up plans for a bridge and agreed to give him five per cent. of the contract price. Mr. Pratt drew up the plans for a concrete bridge estimating that it would cost $93,000, but when the bids were advertised for the lowest bid was $130,000. Mr. Pratt was asked to draw up plans for a steel bridge which was done, and such a bridge erected, Mr. Pratt being paid $3,500 for his services, which the defendants contended was in accordance with the contract.

"Time's Flight Turned Backward" SAGE AND SULPHUR Made Her Look Twenty Years Younger

Read Mrs. Herrick's Sworn Statement

STATE OF NEW YORK) ROCHSTER, N. Y.
COUNTY OF MONROE) ss:

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a girl, I had a head of heavy, long dark brown hair which was the envy of my schoolmates, and which attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. As I grew older, my hair commenced to come out, just a little at first, but gradually more and more, and then began to turn gray. I was induced by the many good reports I had heard of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, and you can imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was that coming back to its natural condition, being thicker, darker and more glossy than it had been for a long time. I continued to use Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is now as heavy, dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is still in splendid condition.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of November, 1910.

PINCHOT FEARS FRAUD

Asks President to Let Him Present Cunningham Claims Brief.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Expressing the fear that the interior department will recommend the patenting of the Cunningham Alaska coal land claims, which he believes to be fraudulent, Gifford Pinchot, former forester of the United States, has appealed to the president to allow him to submit a brief before any such action is given executive approval.

Mr. Pinchot has written a letter to the president under date of Nov. 7, in which he says: "It is unfortunately impossible to look with confidence to the officials of the interior department for an unbiased judgment" in this matter, and he declares that "it is clear that the protection of the public interest in these Alaskan coal lands must depend directly upon the president himself."

Secretary Ballinger's connection with these claims, which have been before the interior department since he was commissioner of the land office, precipitated the so-called Ballinger-Pinchot controversy and the congressional inquiry of the interior department and the forest service which resulted therefrom.

The letter also bears the signature of the former forester's brother, Amos Pinchot.

SENATOR CLAY DIES

Georgia Statesman Passes Away While Chatting With Wife and Son.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 14.—United States Senator Alexander Stephen Clay died suddenly at the Atlanta sanitarium, to which he was taken ten days ago for special treatment.

Senator Clay had been desperately ill for a long time, but death wasn't expected so suddenly. He was chatting with Mrs. Clay and his son when he gasped and in a moment was dead. Dilation of the heart is given as the cause of death, but it is generally understood that Senator Clay was afflicted with cancer of the stomach.

Senator Clay was in his fifty-seventh year and had been in the United States since 1896, having been chosen to succeed General John B. Gordon.

WOMAN STABS FATHER AND HUSBAND

Becomes Furious When Accused by Family.

West Chester, Pa., Nov. 14.—Anger when accused of having spent the night away from home with another man, Mrs. Ida Thomas ran into the kitchen of her home and, getting a sharp butcher knife, it is alleged, she stabbed her father, James Edwards, just above the heart and through the stomach.

Then, with the fury of a mad woman, she turned upon her husband, Edward Thomas, and slashed him several times across the face, also severing an artery in his wrist.

Edwards is in the hospital and will die, but Thomas' condition is not so serious. Mrs. Thomas was arrested and held without bail by Magistrate Paxson for a further hearing. Because of the conflicting stories which were told of the stabbing, Thomas was also placed in jail after his injuries were attended, while the police are investigating the case.

Thomas said that his wife had been drinking and had been out on a joy ride with another man.

DOG GUARDED DEAD HUNTER

It Is Believed Banker Was Killed by Own Gun While Climbing Fence.

Johnson City, Tenn., Nov. 14.—Fate L. Earnest, aged fifty-one years, the cashier of the Unaka National bank and president of the Tennessee Bankers' association, was found dead with his trained bird dog lying as a sentinel at his head. His gun had been discharged, it is supposed, while he was climbing a fence in hunting.

Philadelphia City Solicitor Dead

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—J. Howard Gendell, city solicitor, died suddenly at his home, 3601 Hamilton street, following an illness of only two days. Death was due to heart disease, attributed to an attack of paralysis he suffered about five months ago.

102-Year-Old Woman Dies

Johnstown, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Lucinda Adams, the oldest resident of Fulton county, and believed to be the oldest woman in the state, died here. She was almost 102 years old.

$100, REWARD $100,

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have to much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

EXPERT HAND IN SCHENK MYSTERY

Police Believe Other Persons

SKILL IN GIVING DRUG

Prosecutor Intimates More Warrants
Are to Be Issued in Attempted Murder of Millionaire Pork Packer.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 14.—Even though John O. Schenk, the millionaire pork packer, should recover from the effects of the poisoning alleged to have been administered to him, the person found guilty of giving it faces, in case of conviction, a fifteen-year term in the penitentiary.

West Virginia has a special statute providing for penalties for cases in which murder is attempted by poisoning, and the penalty, five to fifteen years, is severer than for murder attempted by any other method.

The insidious manner in which the poison was administered to Schenk leads to the belief that experts had a hand in administering the poison. One of the bottles of lithia water out of which Schenk drank contained arsenic diluted with salts, the most deadly of all arsenics, though it acts slowly, killing one by degrees. It is certain that whoever placed the arsenic in the water partaken of by the sick man either was an expert chemist or was advised by an expert.

Prosecuting Attorney Handlin is reticent and says he will give out no information regarding the case until the day of the trial. He intimates that several warrants are to be issued, but that he does not want to say anything that will arouse suspicion in the minds of certain persons he believes are involved in the case. All efforts to learn where the arsenic has been bought have proved fruitless.

Doctor Urges Wife's Arrest.

It was not the intention to place Mrs. Schenk under arrest until some time this week, but there were developments in the room of the sick man at the hospital that made action imperative, the authorities say. Mrs. Schenk on the day of her arrest called to see her husband and it is alleged again insisted, as she had done every day before, that he be taken to his home.

Albert Schenk, her brother-in-law, was present, and he said his brother would remain in the hospital. Dr. Hupp, the attending physician, then called upon the prosecuting attorney and said the case had gone far enough and it was time to act. Mrs. Schenk was arrested that night.

Mrs. Schenk's cell in the county jail is more luxurious than one home in a thousand. Costly trappings have been installed there from her palatial home on the island. She gets all her food from the best hotels. She seems little concerned regarding the case, having apparently the utmost confidence in her acquittal. She shows great concern and alarm over the illness of her husband.

Mr. Schenk's income from the Schenk packing house alone is said to be $60,000 a year, and he has numerous other interests which should easily bring this up to $100,000. It is said that in his will he has bequeathed everything, with reservation, to his wife.

JOHN D. IS YOUNG AGAIN

Oil King Is In Better Health Than For Many Years.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Nov. 14.—John D. Rockefeller is getting young again. Sunday morning he came down to the Baptist church and he brought a flock of his friends with him.

While he was waiting for the friends to get out of the car Mr. Rockefeller noticed a woman approaching the entrance of the church. With wonderful alacrity he gave a quick jump and fairly hopped upon the step and opening the door held it until the woman passed. Then he helped his guests.

Mr. Rockefeller looks to be in better health this fall than in many years. He has a ruddy color and his cheeks are red. His movements are not as slow as in former years. He is strong and active and he attributes the return of his health to golf and automobile driving. These sports he enjoys every day, no matter what the weather is.

Must Have Been Buried Alive.

Beverly, Mass., Nov. 14.—When Sexton Charles Merrill, of Bridgeboro, examined the remains of Mrs. Miriam Bates and her son, who were buried forty years ago, he made the gruesome discovery that Mrs. Bates must have been buried alive. The skeleton was turned over on the face in the casket. Old residents recall that Mrs. Bates had died of a broken heart over the death of her son and they were buried together. The remains were re-interred in Philadelphia.

Will Recommend Airships For Army.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Secretary of War Dickinson will recommend in his annual report the purchase of five or ten military aeroplanes for the use of the signal corps of the army. Mr. Dickinson made several flights with French military officers while abroad and is a firm believer in the military value of the aeroplane for scouting purposes.

NO TRACE OF BANDITS

Masked Men Who Robbed Paymaster of $7000 Elude Police.

Winsted, Conn., Nov. 14.—The posse of officers and citizens who surrounded the swamp into which the band of masked robbers plunged after forcing, at the point of guns, Paymaster Rines and Superintendent Robinson, of the Worenoce Construction company, and their guard, Deputy Sheriff Truesdell, of Great Barrington, to give up two grips containing about $7000 in money and about $5000 in checks, have not found a single trace of the brigands, who, it is now generally believed, were not foreigners who had been engaged with 600 men in trolley construction work between Great Barrington and Canaan, but men disguised as hunters or laborers.

Paymaster Hines and his escort were walking along the trolley line two miles from Great Barrington, and as they approached a densely wooded swamp they were confronted by three masked men, who leveled rifles at them. One shot was fired at Hines, but it missed him. The robbers then demanded the money, and it was handed over, whereupon the robbers disappeared in the thicket.

CONGRESSMAN DEAD

William W. Foulkrod, of Philadelphia, Passes Away.

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Congressman William W. Foulkrod died of heart disease at his home in this city. When the end came Congressman Foulkrod's wife and daughter, Mrs. Frank R. Hansell, were at the bedside.

The pathetic feature of Mr. Foulkrod's death was the fact that to the last he was not told that he had been defeated for re-election by Michael F. Donohue, who was elected on the Keystone Democratic ticket from the Fifth congressional district by a large majority.

Fearing that the news would have a disastrous effect upon the sick man, whose death had been precarious for seven months, his physician and the members of his family told him that he had been re-elected by a substantial majority.

WILL DEVELOP THE CZAR'S MINES

Famous Mining Engineer Going to Siberia.

Gloucester, Mass., Nov. 14.—John Hays Hammond, friend of President Taft and millionaire mining engineer, is going to Siberia to develop the mines of the czar. Mr. Hammond admitted that he was going when he was seen by a reporter.

"I shall go to Siberia," said Mr. Hammond, "solely in the interest of American capital. I may go at the end of the month, but I hope not to have to go before next spring. I am going to give the American people the opportunity of investing their money in Siberian enterprises. I shall be on the lookout for gold and copper mining properties. I hope to develop these on a large extent. This will mean the development of manufactures, for where there is mines there must be mining machinery."

HENS ON A BRANDY JAG

Fermented Wild Cherries, Emptied in Yard, Unsettled Things.

Meyerstown, Pa., Nov. 14.—Little did Mrs. Adam Forry think what would follow when she emptied into the yard a bottle of wild cherries that had been soaking in brandy in the house for years.

Her flock of chickens gulped all of them down, and in less than ten minutes a chicken spree was on. The old hens laid down, helpless, and the roosters and pullets staggered around and trod all over things.

Villagers flocked to the place to witness the novel sight, and a shocked teetotaler delivered a lecture on the evils of strong drink, using the drunken hens as a horrible example.

When night came on the "drunks" tried to reach their roosts, but their legs were too shaky, and they slept on the ground.

An egg-nog vendor offers to pay Mrs. Forry double price for all the eggs the bibulous hens may lay during the next ten days.

Leans Over a Gun to Die.

Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 14.—Thomas Kindt, of Belfast, near here, committed suicide just outside his front door. He took a loaded shotgun and after removing his shoes, stood it upright. Over this he leaned, with his abdomen touching the barrel, and then he pulled the trigger with his toes. A great hole was torn in his stomach.

Everybody 13 Cents Richer.

Washington, Nov. 14.—If each person in the United States were to have his proportion of the money in circulation he would be 13 cents richer this month than he was last. The circulation per capita is now $35.01, six cents better than at the same time last year.

FOOTBALL PLAYER HELD FOR MURDER

Charged With Killing Captain
of Opposing Team.

BLOW CAUSED DEATH

Bethany College Player Accused of Striking Captain of West Virginia University Eleven on Back of the Head With His Fist.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 14.—Charging him with the wilful murder of Rudolph Munk, left halfback and captain of the West Virginia university team, Coroner W. W. Rogers issued a warrant for Thomas McCoy, alias Gardner, left end of the Bethany college team. McCoy was arrested.

The warrant was issued because of the sworn statement made to Coroner Rogers by Homer N. Young, of Pittsburg, Pa., a former Michigan university player, who was the official referee of the game. His statement is:

Slugged Player From Behind.
"Rudolph Munk was running down
the field in advance of the man with the ball, West Virginia having the ball
about thirty yards from the Bethany goal. He was not close to the ball.
On this play he was met by a man said to be Gardner, as his name was given to me by Townsend, the coach for the Bethany team. On this particular play this man Gardner ran towards Munk while both were running down the field. About the time they got ten yards beyond the scrimmage line, Gardner from behind Munk to the best of my recollection, struck Munk on the back of Munk's head with his (Gardner's) fist. Munk fell unconscious and Gardner went on to the goal.
Gardner got on his feet, for an instant gazed at Munk and started to walk off the field. For this foul play
I put him out of the game. He made no reply and no protest under the circumstances. Munk was unconscious evidently to me. The blow which resulted in Munk's death was intentional."

The evidence of Referee Young is part of the inquest that is being held by Coroner Rogers. McCoy and other members of the Bethany team will be examined by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Fred L. Maury.

McCoy is the real name of the player credited with striking Munk, but in this game he was playing under the name of Gardner. After he had been ordered from the field he passed the bleachers where several hundred West Virginia rooters were standing. Cries of "Dirty player" and "Tough" came from the crowd, and in reply McCoy said: "Well, he was slugging me all through the game."

Didn't Regain Consciousness.
Dr. Staats rushed to the side of the player and hurriedly placing him in an auto rushed him to the City hospital. Half a score of physicians worked over him, but all to no avail. He died without having regained consciousness.

Captain Henley, of Bethany, when asked concerning the play, said: "It is the consensus of opinion among the Bethany players that Munk hit McCoy and that McCoy hit him back. None of the Bethany players saw the play, nor do I think the officials did, as all were watching the man with the ball."

Coach Townsend, of Bethany, said:
"Slugging had been going on all through the game, and just prior to the accident I had asked the officials to have it stopped, but they paid no attention to my remarks. All of our players deeply regret the affair, and we will take up a popular subscription to purchase a floral offering in a measure to show the boy's parents our feeling in the matter."

An autopsy held over the body of Munk revealed the cause of his death.
It was a blood clot on the brain, due to the blow on the head.

Bad News Makes Wife Dead.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 14.—On being told that her husband had been killed in an accident at the General Electric company's works here, Mrs. John Fee suddenly became deaf and has remained in that condition for three days. In spite of efforts of several doctors the woman is still deaf. Fee was not killed, as the wife was told, but lies in a critical condition in the Lynn hospital.

Suitcase of Whisky His Undoing.

Denton, Md., Nov. 14.—When several persons laid claim to a suitcase full of

called the authorities here to the spot.
Carter consequently was put under arrest as violating the strict prohibition law passed by the last legislature
for Caroline county.

He goes to the United States to attend the wedding of his son, the Hon.
Cecil Vavasour Fisher, and Miss Jane Morgan, of Philadelphia, to take place in that city at an early date.

SLAIN GIRL'S BODY FOUND IN WOODS

Colored Man Under Arrest

Suspected of Crime.

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 14.—The body of Marie Smith, the ten-year-old schoolgirl, who disappeared last Wednesday after leaving the Bradley schoolhouse in Asbury Park, which she attended, was found in the woods of Wannamans, about 250 feet from the main road. The body was lying in a pool of blood.

There was a deep gash on the top of her head, evidently inflicted by an axe. Coroner Pudry ordered an autopsy and at once empaneled a jury.
The autopsy revealed that the body
had been maltreated after death.

There is great excitement in Asbury Park and a crowd assembled at the undertaking establishment where the body was removed.

Thomas Williams, a negro employed by the girl's aunt, was arrested as a suspect.

Marie was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith, of Whitesville. For three days searching parties have been out scouring the woods and dragging the lakes.

WILL NOT BE CALLED DEAD

Man Absent 25 Years Declares He Is Much Alive.

Clarion, Pa., Nov. 14.—Legal proceedings to declare Harry Thomas legally dead have come to a sudden halt here by the receipt of a letter from the supposed decedent written from Los Angeles, Cal.

Thomas disappeared from his home,
a large farm in Monroe township, twenty-five years ago and had not been heard from since. Proceedings were begun by a cousin before the register of this county to have him legally declared dead and his estate administered.

The advertisement in the local newspapers requiring Thomas to appear at the February term of court in this county was seen by a friend in California and was by him shown to Thomas, who immediately wrote here that he was much alive and would answer the summons in person.

Murdered on the Street.

Middletown, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Dominick Morone, a prosperous shoemaker in the Italian colony in this city, was shot dead on the street by two strangers who are believed to have been emissaries of the New York Black Hand organization. Morone resided in New York for years, but several years ago left that city. It was stated that he left New York because he feared the vengeance of some organization.

Wrote Letter to Get Arrested.

New York, Nov. 14.—Peter Lillifohn, who wrote a threatening letter to John D. Rockefeller, demanding $50,000, was held in $1000 bail for the grand jury.
The prisoner said he wrote the letter
because he had no home and wanted to be arrested that he might have shelter.

The Graceful Thing.

A letter came from the clothing firm saying that the cloth that had been sent them was full of moths.

Was the wholesale house taken aback? Not it.

By return post went a missive to this effect:

"On looking over your order we find that you did not order any moths. It was our error, and you will please return them at once, at our expense."

WAS SLAVE TO GYPSY KING

Dying Woman Told Sad Story
in Cincinnati Hospital.

FORMER SOCIETY BELLE

Said She Was Enticed From Home by Woman and Sold to Gypsy King For $900—Was Ill Treated.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 14.—Stranger than fiction and almost unbelievable
is the remarkable deathbed statement of Miss Jessie Habersham, daughter of H. G. Habersham, a prominent canning broker of Baltimore, Md., who died at the Seton hospital a few hours after giving birth to a baby girl.

According to the girl's statement
she was stolen from her home in Baltimore five years ago by a band of gypsies, sold to one of the tribe for $900, and then, under hypnotic influence, compelled to be the slave and wife of the king of the gypsies.

The long search of the past five years in every niche and corner of the United States, it is said, has ruined the girl's father's health, so that the sister superior, who notified him of his daughter's death by telegram, received a telegram stating that he was too sick to come to Cincinnati at the present time to prosecute the abductors. The shock of the girl's abduction was further said, was too great for her mother, who died several months afterward.

Said She Was Enticed Away.

Miss Habersham was twenty-five years old. Her large brown eyes and perfect features showed that she had been very pretty, but her years of suffering had emaciated her face. She said that she had been enticed away from home by an old gypsy woman, who belonged to a tribe that was staying near the Habersham home. She was then sold by this woman to her nephew for $900 and compelled by him to work hard and to endure more than the hardships of the ordinary gypsies.

According to the story told by the young woman shortly before her death some strange influence held her with the gypsies and, although she made several attempts to escape, all were fruitless. It was two years before she even had a chance to write to her father, and then the tribe heard of her doing so and quietly moved away before the police authorities could reach her. The father spent a small fortune in hiring detectives and for newspaper advertisements.

About five weeks ago the young woman was carried to a rooming house
by a gypsy, who gave the name of J.
H. Michele, and said that the woman was his wife. He asked if the woman might be allowed to stay there until the child was born. No objection was made to this, and Dr. Meade was summoned. He, with the help of a district nurse, cared for the woman until she became so low that they were compelled to remove her to the hospital.
The child, however, is well and healthy and is being held at the hospital.

WAS A SOCIETY BELLE

Miss Jessie Habersham Ran Away
From Home to Join Gypsies.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 14.—News was received here of the death at the Seton hospital in Cincinnati of Mrs.
Jessie Habersham Michele, daughter of a well known broker of this city, who six years ago ran away from a social career here for the free life of a gypsy.

Miss Habersham became the wife of John Michele, a gypsy king, and herself became queen of the band. She died in Cincinnati after giving birth to a girl baby.

Miss Habersham was the great-granddaughter of Francis Scott Key,
the composer of the "Star Spangled Banner." She had made her debut, but after one year in the social life she felt the call of Romany freedom and quietly disappeared.

ceived a photograph of the president

toinette Beckhart, with many thanks
for her beautiful roses.—William H.
Taft." A package containing the photograph was addressed to the street where Miss Beckhart has had a flower stand on the curb for many years.

Bandits Attack Gold Mine.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 14.—News has reached here that bandits attacked the Santa Gertrudes mines, seven miles from Parral, state of Chihuahua, on Thursday night in an attempt to carry off the bullion, but the miners at the place were aroused and repulsed the robbers. Adolfo Soto, assistant superintendent of the mine, was shot in the thigh and at least one of the bandits was shot, as blood was found on the earth after they left.

Tamaqua, Pa., Nov. 14.—There is a sensation among the farmers of Rush fact that quite a number of hogs have been killed at night and their bodies mutilated. It is believed to be the work of a panther or a catamount, and poesies are out hunting at night for the

The Scrap Book

"Might Have!" I have lived my life, and I face the end. But that other life I might have led—Where lay the road, and who was its friend, And what was the goal when the years were fled? Where lay the road? Did I miss the turn? The friend unknown? Our greetings unsaid? And the goal unsought? Shall I never learn What was that life I might have led? As the spring's last look for one dear day From skies autumnal on earth may bend, So lures me that other life—but, nay! I have lived my life, and I face the end. —Edith M. Thomas.

His Mark. One day a big city bank received the following message from one of its country correspondents: "Pay $25 to John Smith, who will call today." The cashier's curiosity became suspicion when a cabman assisted into the bank a drunken "fare" who shouted that he was John Smith and wanted some money. Two clerks pushed and pulled and piloted the boisterous individual into a private room away from the sight and hearing of regular depositors. The cashier wired the country bank: "Man claiming to be John Smith is here. Highly intoxicated. Shall we await identification?" The answer read: "Identification complete. Pay the money."—Success Magazine.

Averting a Panic. On one occasion John Phillip Sousa by his promptness was the direct means of stopping a panic which might have had the most disastrous results. While his band was playing before 12,000 people in St. Louis the electric lights in the hall went out suddenly. People began to move uneasily in their seats, and some even began to make a rush for the doors. Coolly tapping with his baton, Sousa gave a signal, and immediately his band began playing "Oh, Dear, What Can the Matter Be?" At this ripple of laughter that went round the audience showed that confidence had been partially restored. When the band began to play "Wait Till the Clouds Roll By" the laughter deepened into a roar of merriment that ended only when the lights were turned on again.

A Favored Congregation. A famous North Carolina clergyman while preaching from the text, "He giveth his beloved sleep," stopped in the middle of his discourse, gazed upon his slumbering congregation and said, "Brethren, it is hard to realize the unbounded love which the Lord appears to have for a large portion of my auditors."

PEN PORTRAITS OF NOTED PEOPLE

V. M. Lewis, Nominee For Governor of New Jersey.

Vivian M. Lewis, Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey, is the present commissioner of banking and insurance for the state. Beginning his career as a newspaperman in his native town, Paterson, Mr. Lewis soon attracted attention in his profession as correspondent of several New York dailies. Then he began the study of law and finally entered politics. In 1898 he went to the state assembly and was twice re-elected. During his last term he served as floor leader for the Republican majority. After his legislative experience Mr. Lewis devoted his time to the practice of law and was for several years counsel for the state board of health. In 1904 he was elected city counsel for Paterson, resigning to become clerk in chancery. He continued to serve in the chancery office until he was appointed head of the state department of banking and insurance. He is a native of Paterson and is forty-one years old. He is the youngest banking commissioner the state has ever had, just as he was the youngest chancery clerk that ever held that important office.

New Head of the Grand Army. Colonel John E. Gilman of Boston, the new commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, began his career as a soldier when he ran away from home and enlisted in the famous "Fighting Twelfth" of Massachusetts. The first colonel of his regiment was Fletcher Webster, son of Daniel Webster, who fell at the second battle of Bull Run.

During his entire civil war experience Commander in Chief Gilman served successively under Generals Pope, McClellan, Burnside, Hooker and Meade. The bloodiest engagement of his regiment was at Antietam, where 80 per cent of the men were either killed outright or were mortally wounded. He was at the front during most of the heavy fighting at Gettysburg and left the battle line only when his right arm was torn off by a Confederate shell.

The new commander in chief is a native of Boston and sixty-six years old. He has been a member of the Grand Army since 1868 and is a past department commander of Massachusetts. He was adjutant general of the national body during the terms of Commanders Blackmer and King.

Mrs. Burnett a Hard Worker. GENESEO'S NOVEL HOME TRADE PLAN

Bringing People to Town Was the Object Sought.

HOW THE METHOD WORKED.

Local Interest in Business Stimulated by Monthly Public Auctions—Special Attractions Offered to Farming Folk. Cost to Each Merchant Small.

The life of Geneseo is much like that of other small western New York towns, and it was decided to see if something could be done to develop more local interest in trade. A number of the merchants of Geneseo decided to combine and form a business men's association to advertise the town and help the community, says the New England Homestead. A large number of the men decided that the thing to do was to arrange some method for bringing the people to town. It was decided, therefore, to try holding a free auction each month. Any farmer could send in anything he desired to sell and the business men would advertise it, catalogue it, pay for an auctioneer to sell it and turn over the proceeds without any expense to the farmer.

At this time the different merchants arranged special prices on certain lines of goods—thus: Seven cakes of soap for 25 cents or nineteen pounds of sugar for $1. One enterprising jeweler on the first public auction day sold 100 solid silver thimbles at 17 cents each.

The public auctions kept the farmers busy—horses, cows, tools and farm products attracted several hundred men. People who would not come to town for any reason came on market day, and those who did not come to purchase came to discuss things and see what was going on.

The first market day was a decided success. The cost to the merchants was made up by a levy of $1 each on the members of the association. It has since been decided that they will contribute $1 each month and try the system for a year. The second auction was held under unfavorable climatic conditions, but was extremely profitable to the merchants, and some $3,000 worth of farm stock was sold, nearly double that sold at the first auction.

At the third auction it was decided to add a new feature. Three weeks before the event notice was sent to all the county papers that a seed distribution bureau would be established by the association. A committee outlined the following plan: All farmers having farm seeds for sale anywhere in the vicinity were invited to send samples with the amounts they wished to sell and the price. In the case of seed corn they could bring ten ears or half a peck shelled, half a peck of oats or beans and ten potatoes; also samples of grass, clovers and alfalfa seeds.

First, second and third prize cards were awarded in each class, the judging being done by Dr. Gilbert of the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca. The fact of placing samples in competition added interest.

Since the auction was not to be until after dinner the morning was devoted to an institute. Dr. Gilbert giving an address on the importance of good seed. This allowed time to discuss the samples shown and to give in detail methods for their improvement. The exhibit and address were held in the village hall. On a bulletin board were posted the names of all people having produce to sell and of any person who wanted to buy, and the committee sought to bring the parties together.

In order that the farmers might see whether their soil conditions were similar a soil map of Livingston county was hung in the room, an advance copy having just been received from the United States department of agriculture.

A Flower as Rent.

A dispatch from Flint, Mich., reports that the local school board has secured a fifty-nine year lease of a site for a new school building at the rate of one clover blossom a year. The man who offered to rent the land on these terms is something of a poet, and the board in accepting the offer has entered into his spirit and determined, it is said, to make every year a ceremonial payment of the rent. It is a pity that when sites are given, as they so often are, the generous donors do not exact some such rental as this, that will require a touch at least of beauty in the school yard. The requirement of a bunch of roses or of some other chosen flower which must be grown on the premises under the children's care would inject a new, a much needed and delightful element into school life.

Some Men's Advertising.

Once there was a man who advertised. He inserted in the local paper a one inch card, which read: "James Jones, Grocer. I solicit the trade of the People. 4011 Dead St." This man paid 90 cents for this ad. for one month. No one told him that they traded with him because he advertised, and he told the editor his paper was no good as a trade puller and to pay money for advertising was a waste. One year later the sheriff closed him out, and the man has never advertised since. Those who would advertise take warning.

"The FREE" the Now Famous Sewing Machine

Many people wonder why we use such enthusiastic language in endorsing this new and "different" sewing machine The Free. We have sold a good many sewing machines since we have been in business and we are so convinced of the absolute superiority of The Free over any machine we have ever seen that we don't even dare tell you the price. It is too low. We and Mr. Free both realize that if you were told the price without seeing the machine you would not be able to appreciate the fact that The Free is the only perfect 20th century Sewing machine. Come to our store and let us show you the improvements of this wonderful machine.

ANNETTE Catarrh Will Go

The vaudeville stage has developed musical comedies of great merit in short acts. Take for instance the music in Jesse Laskey's production "On the Housetop." The musical is famous. The very best song in the act is "Annette," and The New York World has secured it from Harry Von Tilzer and will publish it words and music complete, free with next Sunday's World. Get it and try it on your piano. Relief Comes in Two Minutes Complete Cure in Few Weeks. Don't go on hawking yourself sick every morning; it's cruel, it's harmful and it's unnecessary.
